

Kate Burnett

Kate combines her experience, expertise and commitment to advance individuals and systems, using humanistic connectivity. An internationally known executive performance, leadership, organisational and relationship coach, Kate uses her many years of experience to enhance organisational performance for stakeholders including, international charities, our National Health Service, and private sector organisations. Kate has been commended in the UKs House of Commons as an ‘inspirational female leader in health and social care’. She was awarded a Fellowship of the Royal Society of Arts (FRSA) for her achievements in cultural change and leading with humanity within the UKs NHS.

Kate is a graduate of medicine from St Andrews/ Manchester University, works as a urologist and alongside her medical degrees holds master’s degrees in medical education and system psychodynamics. More about Kate and her work can be found on www.on-becoming.co.uk